Paris, New York, Dubai, February 14th, 2014

French start-up Invivox.com and EGG global Meeting and Events Agency specialized in the Healthcare industry have entered into a partnership that will aim at facilitating the travel of Medical specialists to other experts for the purpose of Continuing Medical Training.

Since its inception in Sept 2016, Invivox offers the global Medical community the possibility to connect on its platform in order to find practical training with another doctor (expert in his/her field). Invivox is referred to as the ‘airbnb’ of continuing medical training (Usine Nouvelle Article).

EGG is an international events agency specialized in the field of pharmaceutical and healthcare industries. For the past 17 years, Egg has organized global events (medical conferences, events, seminars).

“This partnership is the logical next step of our proposal to physicians from around the world, says Julien Delpech, CEO of Invivox. Thanks to this partnership with EGG, now when a French physician registers on line for a training session with a US physician in New York, we are able to propose all of the logistics to facilitate the trip and accommodations in New York. Thanks to Egg Services, we can even round up a seat at Madison Square Gardens in NY”.
